

ST. LOUIS FLOOD DRIVES HUNDREDS FROM HOMES

POLICE ARE CALLED TO RESCUE MANY FROM SECOND STORY WINDOWS

Vague Rumors of Drownings in Maplewood and Other Suburbs Are Unconfirmed—Breaking of Creek Threatens Water Supply—Levee Breaks at East Alton and Causes Heavy Damage.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 20.—The great storm that devastated the Texas gulf coast last Monday and Tuesday, struck St. Louis last night and today bringing with it the heaviest downpour in the history of the city and causing a flood that drove hundreds of city and suburban residents from their homes. At five o'clock this evening the rainfall since the storm began was 5.95 inches.

Due in Part to Back Water.
The flood in St. Louis was due in part to back water in the storm sewers in the western part of the city and in part to the tremendous rise in the usually negligible river Des Peres. This river went out of its bank in the western and southern part of the city, flooded a part of the populous suburbs of Maplewood and Greenwood, interrupted train service on three railroads and caused an annulment of car service to suburban towns.

Suburbanites who managed to get to the city this morning were unable to get home tonight and the first regiment armory and the coliseum were thrown open to accommodate those who had no place to go for the night.

Cancel Suburban Service.
Suburban train service was cancelled this afternoon on the Missouri Pacific and the St. Louis and San Francisco railroads, isolating from communication with the city Maplewood, Webster Grove, Kirkwood, Valley Park and other smaller towns where many St. Louis business men live.

Through train service into St. Louis also was affected by the storm which at 6 o'clock tonight still continued.

A fast train to Texas and Oklahoma on the Frisco, which leaves here at 2:30 p. m., was annulled; the San Francisco train of the Missouri Pacific was routed over the Burlington tracks; the Wabash through trains to the west that usually take the main line through the western part of the city operated this afternoon and tonight over the elevated tracks along the Mississippi river front.

The storm evidently was widespread throughout this section for trains were definitely delayed on the Baltimore and Ohio, the Pennsylvania, the Burlington, Missouri Pacific, Iron Mountain, Frisco and Rock Island.

Call on Police for Help.
The effect of the storm in the western, southern and suburban districts of St. Louis was felt early in the day and long before noon calls had been sent to police headquarters for help in getting marooned people out of the second story and attic windows.

Vague rumors of drowning in Maplewood and other suburbs were unconfirmed. Mrs. William Nabers, living in Benton, an outlying district within the city limits, was swept off her porch as she held a four months old baby in her arms. She was carried by the water one hundred feet and saved herself by clinging to the branch of a tree until help came.

E. J. Stange and his wife were driven by the rising waters to the roof of their house near the mouth of the Des Peres river at the extreme southern part of St. Louis. They remained there nearly six hours while attempts were made to rescue them.

Warnings of an approaching flood stage in the Mississippi river between Grafton, Ill. and Chester, Ill. were issued by the weather bureau late today.

Threatens Water Supply.
The breaking of a creek whose waters undermined parts of the St. Louis waterworks tonight, endangered the city's water supply. A large force of men at 10 o'clock began building embankments about the big mains in an effort to divert the raging stream. The water commissioner said that if the course of the creek were not changed the mains would collapse and the city be without water.

River Des Peres, running through western St. Louis and St. Louis county, normally from five to fifteen yards wide, tonight was a mile wide in places.

The first regiment of the Missouri National Guard was called out tonight to assist in rescue work along the course of river Des Peres and members of the Missouri Naval Reserve have been ordered to report tomorrow morning for similar work.

Levee at East Alton Breaks.
Alton, Ill., Aug. 20.—The levee

of Wood river at East Alton gave way tonight and sent flood waters rushing through the streets, tearing down barns and small homes and forcing the occupants of larger dwellings to upper stories for safety. Appeals for motor boats and skiffs to rescue hundreds of marooned persons were sent to Mayor Beal of Alton.

The five hundred residents of Benbow City and West Woodriver were warned of the oncoming flood by two men on horseback who preceded the water by a few minutes, rode through the streets, calling "run for your lives." Late tonight both Benbow City and West Woodriver were deserted while their entire population sought refuge in the city of Woodriver.

At ten o'clock tonight it was not known here whether there had been any loss of life at East Alton. Four hundred employees of the Western Cartridge company and the Equitable Powder company narrowly escaped being caught by the wall of rushing water. The property loss of these two plants alone is estimated at more than $200,000.

A Chicago and Alton train from Kansas City with 100 passengers, whose engineer had heard of the accident to the levee, attempted to beat the rushing waters but was stalled just outside the city. A Big Four train with 75 passengers also was caught between two streams of flood water and was stalled. Efforts to remove the passengers by boat immediately were begun.

Sewers Proved Inadequate.
East St. Louis, Ill., Aug. 20.—Sewers in East St. Louis proved inadequate to carry off the great downpour of rain that fell during the last 24 hours and a large part of the city was under water. The city drainage canal overflowed and persons living near it telephoned to the street department for boats to take them from their houses.

Fifty houses in Belleville, Ill., were flooded and many factories there were forced to close. Richland Creek which runs through Belleville, normally is fifteen feet wide but today it was 900 feet wide in places.

Several families were driven from their homes in Lebanon, Ill., by a flood from Little Silver Creek. The flooding of this creek cut off the town's supply of ice and meat.

The gauge at the Lebanon Agricultural and experiment station showed a rainfall of 3.95 inches between 5 p. m. Thursday and 2 p. m. today. Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern tracks were washed out at Caseyville, Ill.

Three Houses Washed Away.
Granite City, Ill., Aug. 20.—Many families in the lower sections of Granite City were forced to flee from flood waters today and others sought refuge on upper floors.

A report came to police headquarters that three houses had been washed from their foundations and were floating toward the Mississippi river.

Heavy Rain Damages Crops.
Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—Inestimable damage to crops in the process of being harvested has been caused by a terrific downpour of rain which has been general in Illinois for the last twenty four hours, according to a special bulletin issued by the United States weather bureau here.

The northern section of the state is the worst sufferer because a larger percentage of the grain remains unharvested than in the southern portion. In many northern Illinois counties oats are still standing in the field because the rains have made the ground so soft that it has been impossible to get shovels into the fields. What oats are still unharvested will be practically a total loss.

In many parts of the state oats and wheat in the shock have commenced to mould and sprout, doing great damage to a crop which otherwise would have been one of the most bountiful in the history of the state.

The rain has been the heaviest in the southern part of the state and the damage to both wheat and oats will be large.

Railroad Traffic Demoralized.
Springfield, Mo., Aug. 20.—The demoralization of railroad traffic in southern Missouri and northern Arkansas and the destruction of a third of the Ozark's two million dollar peach crop—these were the principal destructive effects of the rain and wind storm which swept this district today.

CONDITIONS SLOWLY APPROACH NORMAL

Worst of Damage to Galveston Has Been More Or Less Remedied

NO SHORTAGE OF FOOD

City Officials Estimate There Are Sufficient Provisions on Hand for A Month

SEND TENTS FOR HOMELESS

GALVESTON, Tex., Aug. 20.—The fourth day after the cessation of one of the most severe storms Galveston ever has experienced, found this city gradually recovering from the terrible onslaught of the elements and conditions slowly but steadily approaching normal.

Snows Effect of Battering.
Tonight the city still showed plainly the distressing effects of the battering received from the wind and rain and intruding of the sea. Much inconvenience was experienced by residents because virtually all the public utilities were put out of commission. But the worst of the damage had been more or less remedied and putting of the city in order was progressing as rapidly as possible.

Fear apparently had been eliminated of a food shortage or any calamity of equal seriousness for the public in its time of distress. Satisfaction was felt among this city's population today when it became known that communication with the outside world by wire had been established.

Thousand Phones in Order.
Late today the telephone company reported about 1,000 telephones in order. Gas was in use tonight in parts of the business district but the plant had not resumed full operations. There was no power or light from the city electric plant. A few private plants and motors were used in various establishments.

The Evening Tribune which since Tuesday has been issuing a sheet 12 to 15 inches, this afternoon issued four pages of seven columns of regular size, which was printed by power from motors of automobile trucks.

Sufficient Provisions for Month.
City officials estimated that there are sufficient provisions on hand for the population for one month, even if no other food is received during that time. Nearly all restaurants and cafes are open and doing business as usual.

According to the latest information from official and other sources considered reliable, the storm death toll here and in vicinity was:

Eight persons killed or drowned inside Galveston city proper.

Five bodies found on the beach inside of the city limits which possibly had drifted there from some other point.

Eight bodies, six of them whites and two negroes, found on Pelican Island, where possibly they drifted from the shore of Galveston island.

Body on West End Drowned.
From reports of United States army officials, it was estimated that forty persons of the population on the west end of the island and outside of the city had been drowned.

This estimate was made from reports of soldiers who, it was said, buried the bodies as soon as found. It was believed this would cover the fatalities in this section. Officials said eleven bodies were found today along a stretch of coast line, west of Galveston.

Soldiers who returned last night from a trip fifteen miles down the western section of the island reported today that the entire section had been swept clean of houses, crops and cattle in that vicinity. According to the best estimates obtainable, there had been 500 inhabitants, seven or eight dairies and a number of truck farms in that section. Water from 15 to 18 feet deep, it was reported, was swept over this particular community. It was pointed out, however, that the residents of the west end of the island had been warned as early as Monday and had fled to higher ground before the storm broke.

Make Growsome Discovery.
A discovery at once growsome and pathetic was made on the west bank of the island today when the body of an unidentified woman and five children were found. It apparently was a family of a mother, three girls and two boys, the oldest a girl of 13. The woman's efforts to save the children or die with them were indicated in the fact that each of the five bodies had been tied to the woman with a piece of rope.

Officials of the United States engineering department late today announced that it had been learned that 19 of the 27 men on the dredge San Bernardo which sank near the mouth of the intercoastal canal had been drowned.

Estimates by various officials of storm damage to property and shipping in Galveston and vicinity are from $4,000,000 to $8,000,000. Large squads of men are working in all parts of the city to clear away the wreckage of buildings and small

SAYS GEORGIANS WILL RESENT INTERFERENCE

GOV. HARRIS MAKES STATEMENT REGARDING PROBE OF LYNCHING

Declares Newspaper Editorials, Resolutions of Indignation and Offers of Rewards (From Other States) Will Only Serve to Aggravate Situation.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 20.—Governor Harris let it be known today that the people of Georgia would resent outside interference or advice in dealing with conditions growing out of the lynching of Leo M. Frank.

"The lynching," he said, "was a crime against the civilization of our state and a blot upon Georgia's fair name that cannot be erased. None of us approves of mob violence or lynch law and all of us regret what has happened. I have and will continue to exert every power at my command to bring the members of the mob to justice."

"But if the members of the mob are brought to justice it will be through the courageous efforts of Georgia officials and courts, supported by the sentiment of the citizens of the state and not through the newspaper editorials and resolutions of indignation and offer of rewards coming from other states."

Will Only Aggravate Situation.
"I am afraid these things will only serve to aggravate a situation that already is deeply humiliating to our people and if they continue will eventually in a great deal more harm than good by defeating the efforts of the state to apprehend the guilty parties."

So far as the public is advised, the only forward step taken today in connection with the lynching was the announcement that the governor soon would ask the prosecuting officials of Baldwin and Cobb counties to confer with him on what future action shall be taken.

The state prison farm is in Baldwin county, and Frank's death, so far as known, occurred in Cobb county. The superior court judge, the solicitor and the sheriff of the two counties are to be invited to the conference.

There has been some doubt among these officials, according to common report, as to which should take the initiative in discovering the identity of the men who abducted Frank from Milledgeville and later left his body dangling at the end of a rope near Marietta.

It is contended on behalf of the Milledgeville authorities that the actual killing of Frank did not take place in that county and therefore the real prosecution of the case would not lie in their hands.

On behalf of the Cobb county authorities, it is contended the officials there did not come in actual contact with the mob and were unaware of the crime until the lynchings had escaped.

No Grand Jury Sessions Imminent.
No grand jury sessions are imminent in either county and so far as could be learned tonight no special sessions are contemplated.

Apparently the only tangible investigation of the lynching actually under way is that being conducted by Coroner Booth of Cobb county, who empaneled a jury soon after he cut down Frank's body last Tuesday morning but postponed the sitting for a week.

Coroner Booth said today that he had discovered only two witnesses who had seen the lynching party in automobiles approaching the vicinity of the giant oak near the Frey cotton gin. One of these witnesses is William Frey but neither was able to fix the identity of any member of the party. Frank was recognized, they say, because of his only partly clad figure. The lynchings were heavy automobile goggles which effectively served the purpose of masks.

craft and clean up the city. So far as could be learned, the number of homeless in and near Galveston will not exceed 1,200. A report from Austin said that tents will be sent by Governor Ferguson tonight for use by families whose homes were destroyed.

A carload of food supplies ordered from Houston arrived in boats tonight.

Identification of bodies is proceeding very slowly. Many bodies have been unidentified. The list of dead thus far shows no names of prominent.

The bodies of 19 of the crew of the sunken dredge Houston found on the dyke near Texas City, were buried today on the mainland.

FIFTY-FOUR ARE STILL MISSING

Two Americans Among Arabic's Passengers Unaccounted For

TENSION IS INCREASED

Affidavits that Vessel Was Torpedoed Without Warning Reach Washington

U. S. ATTITUDE IS RECEPTIVE

LONDON, Aug. 20.—At least five passengers, two of whom were Americans, and forty members of the crew lost their lives when the White Star liner Arabic was sunk by a German submarine off Fastnet yesterday morning. Nine other passengers are missing and are believed to have perished.

The two Americans who went down with the ship were Mrs. Josephine Brugliere of New York and Edmund T. Woods. Mrs. Brugliere was thrown into the water and was kept afloat for some time by her son, Louis, who was forced to relinquish his hold when he was struck by a piece of wreckage. Nothing was seen of Woods after the steamer was struck.

Most of the missing members of the crew belonged to the engineer's staff. They remained at their posts and went down with the ship.

Assert There Was No Warning.
Captain Finch and the other officers of the Arabic, assert that the submarine gave them no warning. They assert that the torpedo was fired as they were going to the rescue of the steamer Dunstey, which had just been torpedoed, presumably by the same submarine.

That the loss of life was not much heavier was due to the preparations made by the officers in view of the possibility of an attack while passing through the "war zone", to the fine weather which prevailed and to the splendid discipline maintained by the crew. Life belts had been placed on the decks and the life boats swung out.

The Americans who reached Queenstown were cared for by the United States consul. With the other passengers they left Ireland for England tonight.

The Arabic carried 2,813 bags of mail, mostly for the United States. The mail included several hundred bags from Sweden, Norway, Holland, Spain, Switzerland and other countries.

The Arabic was one of eleven British steamers sunk during the last 48 hours, four being reported yesterday and seven today. It was reported this evening that the Bovie of the White Star line also had been sunk, but this later was denied. Three Norwegian vessels and one Spanish steamer engaged in trade with England also were sent to the bottom.

Tension in Capital Increases.
Washington, Aug. 20.—Tension increased in official quarters here tonight when consular messages forwarding affidavits of American survivors of the British liner Arabic brought definite information that the vessel was torpedoed without warning and that at least some Americans perished.

It seemed that but one point remained to be cleared up—whether the Arabic attempted to ram the submarine or whether a change of the liner's course to assist the already sinking British steamer Dunstey nearby was misinterpreted by the German submarine commander as a hostile approach.

The attitude of the American government for the moment is receptive, anxiously awaiting accurate details and reserving judgment as to whether the action was "deliberately unfriendly." The final decision rests with President Wilson.

The president motored to Philadelphia to see an oculist. He had consulted Secretary Lansing before leaving and conferred with him again tonight. No statement was forthcoming, as details from abroad were lacking but everywhere in official quarters the grave aspects of the case were discussed.

The general trend of comment was that the American government had reached the point where it must now decide whether it would sever diplomatic relations with Germany.

LOUISIANA FIREMEN MEET.
New Orleans, La., Aug. 20.—The fire fighters of Louisiana arrived in town today for the annual convention of the Louisiana State Firemen's Association. Three days will be devoted to parades, speeches and merry-making. On Sunday, the biggest firemen's parade in the history of the city will take place.

IOWA ELKS ELECT.
Iowa City, Ia., Aug. 20.—Iowa Elks in convention here today elected E. B. Brando, Grinnell, president; Frank J. Kiest, Des Moines, secretary; A. Henningsen, Davenport, treasurer. The next convention will be held at Davenport.

DECLARES REPORT WILL SHOCK EMPLOYERS

WALSH, CHAIRMAN OF INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION ISSUES STATEMENT

Admissions of Bribery of Courts and Legislatures, Conspiracy, Exploitation of Women and Children and Other Social Crimes Are Said to Be Made in Report.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 20.—Admissions of bribery of courts and legislatures, conspiracy, the exploitation of women and children, the employment of gunmen, the suppression of free speech and the commission of other social crimes against labor are made in that part of the report to congress framed by Harris Weinstock, Richard H. Alston and S. Thurston Ballard of the United States Commission of Industrial Relations according to a statement given out here today by Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the commission.

The commission's reports to congress, of which there are three, were signed in Chicago recently by the dissenting groups of the commission. The commission was made up of three representatives each of the public, the employers and the employees.

Mr. Ballard, Mr. Weinstock and Mr. Alston were the representatives of the employers.

Based on Investigators' Findings.
"The revelations in the Weinstock report," said Mr. Walsh "will come as a shock to that employing class that has been busy denouncing the advance summary of the main report of the commission, signed by myself and three other members of the commission, as a pro-labor finding. As a matter of fact, every admission—or confession—contained in the report of the representatives of employers was based on the findings of the staff of investigators upon which the main report is based and these admissions and confessions support in every particular the finding which in the minority report were hailed in New York as radical and sensational labor propaganda."

The charges against employers, made by employers representatives on the commission, according to Mr. Walsh, include the following:

"That they have resorted to questionable methods to prevent their workers from organizing.

"That they have attempted to defeat democracy by more or less successfully controlling courts and legislatures.

"That they have exploited women and children and unorganized workers.

"That they have resorted to all sorts of methods to prevent the enactment of remedial legislation.

Employed Gunmen in Strikes.
"That they have employed gunmen in strikes who were quarrelsome characters and who assaulted innocent people and committed other crimes most reprehensible in character.

"That they have paid lower wages than competitive conditions warranted.

"That they have worked their people long hours and under unsanitary and dangerous conditions.

"That they have exploited prison labor at the expense of free labor.

"That they have been contract breakers with labor.

"That they have attempted, through the authorities, to suppress free speech and the right of peaceful assembly.

"That they have deliberately and to selfish ends, bribed representatives of labor.

"And that all of these things tend to produce industrial unrest, with all its consequent and far reaching ills.

Defends Right to Strike.
"We feel, with organized labor, that there should be no restriction put upon the right to strike, realizing as we do that the strike is the only weapon which in the interest of labor can be effectively and legally used to aid in bettering its condition."

In addition to these charges against the employers the employees' representatives in their report say, according to Mr. Walsh:

"When labor is effectively organized it has two most powerful weapons at its command, that the employer as a rule, dreads and fears, because of the great damage these weapons can inflict on him, namely, the strike and the primary boycott, both of which are within the moral and legal rights of the worker to use."

"We say frankly that if we were wage earners we would be unionists and as unionists we would feel the keen responsibility of giving the same attention to our trade union duties as to our civic duties."

COMPLETE LEAGUES' ORGANIZATION

Chicago, Aug. 20.—The organization of the Patriotic League of the Republic, a national body having for its purpose adequate national defense, was completed here today. The organization had its birth at Gettysburg, Pa., during the reunion of Federal and Confederate veterans there in 1913. Col. David J. Palmer of Washington, Iowa, general of the Grand Army of the Republic, was vice president.

STRONG RUSSIAN FORTRESS FALLS

Garrison of Novogeorgievsk Succumbs to German Siege Artillery

SPOILS NOT ESTIMATED

Seven Hundred Guns and A Large Quantity of War Materials Are Taken

CONVERGE ON RUSS CENTER

BULLETIN.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 20, via London, Aug. 21.—A German fleet has penetrated the Gulf of Riga and is engaged with Russian warships defending the coast, according to an official statement issued tonight at the Russian war office.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The garrison of the fortress of Novogeorgievsk, which was left behind by Grand Duke Nicholas when he commenced the evacuation of Poland, has succumbed to the heavy siege artillery of the Germans.

Berlin today was able to announce the capture of the fortress with its seven hundred guns and a large quantity of war materials. The spoils have not yet been estimated but they probably are large, as it had been hoped by the Russians that the earthworks around the fortified camp would enable it to hold out much longer than it has done.

Expect Others to Fall.
It now is expected that the other Russian fortresses, such as Brest-Litovsk, Grodno and Ossowetz, either will be captured or given up.

After the fall of Kovno, Field marshal von Hindenburg's army again commenced an offensive along the whole front from the Gulf of Riga to Kovno, with the object of taking Riga and the whole Warsaw-Petrograd railway, from Vilna northward.

South of Kovno, as far as Grodno, the Russian armies, after the fall of Kovno, fell back towards the Niemen river and here, according to the German official account, they are offering fresh resistance in the hope of preventing or delaying the envelopment of the northern flank of the Brest-Litovsk line.

Converging on Russ Center.
Six Austro-German armies, strengthened by the corps which have been investing Novogeorgievsk, are converging on the Russian center, which is behind the Bug and along the railway from Brest-Litovsk to Bialystok and no doubt soon will commence a bombardment of Brest-Litovsk.

Other armies have cleared the whole of the left bank of the Bug before Brest-Litovsk, while Field Marshal von Mackensen, having crossed the Bug, is advancing on the fortress from the south.

This means that the obstacle of the marshes has been circumvented and that Brest-Litovsk, the chief military depot and concentration center of Russia, virtually is enveloped. The loss of these lines is considered a graver military misfortune than the loss of Warsaw.

The German success has been due almost entirely to their great superiority in artillery and the military critics express the belief that as long as they maintain this and continue to press forward the Russians must retire before them.

To Make State Entry Into Warsaw
Emperor William, who is reported to have arrived at Novogeorgievsk, will, it is understood, make a state entry into Warsaw and there let it be known by an announcement what the future status of Poland will be.

Along the western front there have been some spurts of liveliness in the fighting, but nothing that could be called a battle.

It now is evident that the fresh landing of British troops at Suvla Bay on the Gallipoli peninsula, robbed of its element of surprise by the appearance of Turkish reinforcements, has proved somewhat of a disappointment, the only gain being that another strip of the peninsula is in the possession of the allies and more Turkish troops must be employed against them.

British Submarine Grounded.
While on her way to the Baltic to help the Russians, the British submarine E-13 grounded on the Danish island of Saltholm, in the Sound, according to an admiralty statement.

An official Berlin statement says that the underwater boat was "destroyed" at the southern outlet of the Sound.

That there is no mention in the foregoing from London of the steamer Arabic, seemingly would indicate that the British censor is not permitting any further news of the disaster to pass.

The Springfield News declares that since W. J. Bryan's British son-in-law has been honored by the British war office for gallantry in battle, Bryan ought to make him sign a peace treaty and beat his sword into a plowshare. "No man connected with the Bryan household should disgrace the family by showing gallantry in battle."

Mr. Bryan's argument that war brings losses to neutrals is supported by the news from Boston that several institutions there will lose largely because of disturbances in Mexico. The will of the late Dr. Fred S. Pearson, famous mine and railroad man, provided for many institutions, but the valuation of the Mexican holdings has dwindled because of the fighting so that only the bequests to the Pearson family will be carried out, it is said. This means that Tufts college will probably be minus a $50,000 legacy and various hospitals and Y. M. C. A. branches $50,000 each.

The Newark idea in reduced base ball admission is to be tried out in Chicago where the charge for Federal league games will be ten cents, beginning tomorrow. In Newark not long since the ten cent admission plan resulted in a game attendance of 18,000 people. So President Weeghman has come out strong for popular baseball based on that experiment and is preparing to take care of big crowds in Chicago. It's an open secret that this year has been a very hard one on base ball and the attendance record is far below the average. No doubt this fact had something to do with President Weeghman's decision and he may want to see if ten cent Federal base ball will not do to the other big leagues what the movies have done to the "legitimate" stage.

It is common knowledge that the Burlington railroad is one of the best managed in the whole country. This is true not only in point of service but financially as well. This is evidenced by the road's recent statement of a year's business. There has been a decrease of something more than $2,500,000 in the road's revenues but the management has been such that the expenses were decreased even a larger amount and thus the proper relation between receipts and expenditures has been maintained. Any railroad that follows this plan will not need special court investigation.

If business men about Chicago and in the middle west show as much interest in the military camp to be opened at Fort Sheridan Sept. 18 as the one at Plattsburgh awakened there will be a large enrollment. The same plan of military instruction used in the east will be followed at Fort Sheridan and Col. Fredericks of the Central division of the army will be in command. Without being radically in favor of a vast expenditure for preparedness, many people approve the military camp idea because it will result in training for a goodly number of strong, able men fitted for leadership if the need for leadership comes. Probably not one of the men in training at Plattsburgh wants war or believes war will come but they nevertheless have the feeling that without reserve leaders the country would be in a condition utterly helpless in the event of war.

Still Hope For Corn Crop.

The heavy downpour of the last twenty-four hours has materially lessened the prospect for a great corn crop in Morgan county. From all reports last night corn fields all over the county show the effects of the rain and wind and the stalks are bent over nearly to the ground. Yet it is not a time for extreme discouragement and it is likely that better seasonable weather will result in bettering corn conditions. This abnormal rainfall cannot continue long and judging by former years there will be a late fall.

With such dismal weather there is a tendency to overestimate the damage done. Some weeks ago there were scores of farmers hereabouts who were certain that there were vast acreages of wheat and oats they could never harvest. Later with only the loss of extra labor they were able to cut practically every acre and the average yield exceeded expectations. The corn crop may be damaged somewhat but it is far from being a total loss as some farmers feared yesterday.

Poincare's Great Career.

Interest now attaches to personal facts about all the rulers and officials of the warring European countries. Two years ago President Raymond Poincare, of France, who yesterday celebrated his fifty-fifth birthday, received congratulations from the rulers of all the great European nations. But a little more than a year's time has served to change conditions. Now French armies are fighting the heroics of the nations which have heretofore sent felicitations and even among the allied nations little or no attention is now given to mere personal affairs. President Poincare's long public service, integrity and prudence qualified him to handle the destinies of France at one of its many critical periods.

Poincare has served France well, and the people learned to trust him long before he was proposed for the presidency. When he achieved the highest political office, he promptly broke all precedents, cleared the office of the red-tape etiquette which made him a figurehead of the French president, and set himself earnestly to work to weld together the aristocratic and plebian factions of the nation. Although he had come from obscurity, his family being neither ancient nor wealthy, the aristocrats have endorsed his policies and ideas.

President Poincare was born at Bar-le-Duc, in France, on Aug. 20, 1856. His mother gave him his example of hardy energy and thrift and had a large share in forming his character. Young Poincare married a beautiful Italian woman. He jumped into politics early in life. Twice he has been minister of public instruction, twice minister of finance, president of the cabinet and minister of foreign affairs. He is a great lawyer, an author of distinction, always a student and keen critic of literature. Although the details of the French heroism in the present great war very rarely reach the American press, President Poincare stands out as a strong leader, the man equal to the emergency, a clear, accurate thinker who suppresses emotions to the serious exigencies that call for the full valor of reunited France.

CASES OF INTEREST.

False Statement Affecting Recovery Under Workmen's Compensation Act.

In his application for employment a workman falsely stated that he was unmarried, and had not been employed on any railroad. His application was accepted. Shortly after, while working on one of the corner, he was killed. N. Y. Penal Law, Section 939, provides that "a person who obtains employment by aid of any false statement in writing as to his previous employment is guilty of a misdemeanor." A decision of the State Workmen's Compensation Commission, in favor of the widow, was appealed from. The appellate court in Kenney vs. Union Railway Company, 152 New York Supplement, 117, holds: "While the relation of employer and employee as defined by the statute must have existed at the time deceased sustained injury, it matters not whether the employment was under a contract concededly valid as to both parties or under a contract voidable at the election of the employer, or whether the liability of the employer for wages was fixed or determinable under quantum meruit. The vital question is whether the relation of employer and employee existed between deceased and the railway company; and, the facts being conceded, the question is one of law. Liability under section 939 of the Penal Law is based upon the fact of the person being in fact an employee and having obtained employment by aid of the false statement. The Compensation Law does not except from its benefits employees who have obtained employment in violation of this provision of the Penal Law. The Compensation Law is not to be read into the contract of employment, as forming a part of it, and as dependent for its enforcement upon the validity of the contract of employment. Although making the false statement constituted a misdemeanor, they did not render the contract of employment void, but at most voidable at the election of the employer, which it at no time saw fit to exercise."

BRYAN DECLARES ARMED PREPAREDNESS CERTAIN DETRIMENT TO WORLD PEACE

FORMER SECRETARY OF STATE MADE ADDRESS HERE ON "THE CAUSELESS WAR"

Audience Which Braved Terrific Rainstorm Gave Close Attention to Arguments for Peaceful Methods of Settling International Disputes—Speaker Referred to Student Days in Jacksonville and to Incidents in the Beginning of His Political Career.

The size of the audience which gathered in the chautauqua tent Friday afternoon was a tribute to Hon. William J. Bryan. A more disagreeable, unfavorable day from a weather standpoint could not have been prepared for the opening of the chautauqua, but in spite of these conditions the tent was fully three-fourths full when Mr. Bryan began his address on "The Causeless War." It was not only the theme which made people brave the rainy tempest, but the personality of the speaker. Jacksonville people, many of whom do not agree with Mr. Bryan politically, nevertheless have the highest regard for his character and attainments, and have never ceased to have a feeling of pride that for so many years his home was in this city.

The formal program of the afternoon began with a selection by the O. E. C. quartet, which was so well received that an encore number was given. Dr. C. E. Black, president of the chautauqua association, introduced Mr. H. H. Bancroft, who is in charge of the platform for the entire chautauqua. Mr. Bancroft, after expressing the appreciation of the management for the interest shown by the public in coming out on such a day, referred to the power of Mr. Bryan's personality, which has given him influence from ocean to ocean and from the gulf to the Canadian line. The chairman then presented the speaker as "The Great Commoner," and the audience was immediately forgetful of the disagreeable surroundings and warmed by enthusiasm for the speaker and his subject.

Mr. Bryan first expressed his appreciation that so large an audience had braved the storm to give him a hearing, and said that his audience made him think of Gideon's band of old, for Bible history tells us that this band was selected by the water test and those who took water were chosen. The speaker then before beginning the discussion of his announced theme referred to his early life in Jacksonville and the changes which passing years had brought.

Among those who accompanied Mr. Bryan and sat on the platform during the address were Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Dunlap, Mrs. Bryan, Judge Jas. A. Creighton, of Springfield; Hon. W. E. Williams, of Pittsfield; H. E. Bell, of White Hall; Dr. P. C. Thompson, Dr. and Mrs. Carl E. Black, Miss Carrie Dunlap, Mrs. H. H. Bancroft, Mayor H. J. Rodgers, Daniel Bahaan, Mr. and Mrs. Miller.

The Gospel of Love.

Mr. Bryan's address was based upon his well known beliefs with reference to the war. He is an avowed enemy of preparedness as a means of making war less likely and declares that after diplomacy, there should come an interim of a year's consideration of any differences before a country is plunged in war which drains it of manhood and money. The secretary of state teaches the gospel of love as opposed to hatred or covetousness upon which wars are built and considers it the mission of the United States to teach the world that friendliness between the nations of the world will mean an end of wars. Without mentioning the Lusitania, the speaker made it clear that while he admits that the Americans who lost their lives on that vessel were within their rights as travelers; he believes that it was their duty not to exert those rights. He reiterated, too, his statement made some time ago that the government which would not hesitate to enforce military service in time of war can with equal honor insist that citizens take no risks likely to plunge their country into grave difficulties.

Jacksonville Reminiscences.

Mr. Bryan said in part: "It is a pleasure, indeed, for me to be here but it is always difficult for me to discuss any announced subject in Jacksonville because of the memories which come crowding in upon me at each returning visit. It is now just forty years since I came to Jacksonville, as a lad of fifteen to get an education. It occurred to me as I passed through Galveston on the way here that it was just thirty-six years ago that I was in an oratorical contest there as a representative of Illinois College, and that it was there I earned the money with which I purchased my wife's engagement ring. We passed through another city where I remembered that I made my first political address. It was arranged that I should make an address on an honorarium rather than a fee, that is, I was to receive my expenses and I well remember that when I told the committee that my expenses were $2.75 and they handed me $2.00, that a great feeling of affluence came to me. This sudden acquisition of wealth gave me the determination to go to the national convention. This was the second such convention I had ever attended, for I went once as a boy of sixteen and gained admission through the kindly offices of a policeman who shoved me through the window.

"In the convention of 1896 I went only as a contested delegate but came out with flying colors. My friends here who are seated on the platform have been my friends and backers always. On every occasion that I have appeared in this vicinity they have been with me upon the platform, though I believe that 'Fil' Dunlap was the only one who accompanied me for my Buckhorn address, the first one I ever made. I remember the story of a hotel man who had the theory that every thousand years events were duplicated, and so, based on that theory, if I am here lecturing to you a thousand years from today, you will find no doubt the same friends seated behind me on the platform who have given me their support through all these years.

History Makes Rapidly.

"Much has happened during these past forty years—the past twenty years—the past ten years—but we are more concerned today with what may happen in the next ten years. So in my decision to talk upon 'The Causeless War' I believe that I am considering a question which is in all your minds and which certainly is upon my heart. I wish first to consider the war as it is and to emphasize the fact of its injury to neutrals. Then it is my purpose to point out the false philosophy from which the war has grown, and finally to point out as I see it the way to permanent peace. This war has no parallel in history. It is greater than any former war, and the number of soldiers engaged in the conflict surpasses any war in history. The estimated army strength varies from twenty-one million to thirty-one million men, but in my comparative figures I have adopted the lowest estimate because those figures are certainly impressive enough. In the three campaigns when I was the candidate of the national party, the largest strength I mustered was 6,500,000 and the opposition candidates was somewhat larger. Never in the history of the country has the entire voting strength of all the parties numbered twenty million. We know that thus far two million men have died in this conflict. If some nestle were to claim a hundred thousand men there would be a world wide expression of sympathy. Yet these deaths would not be traceable to any human intent. In this conflict more than twenty times that number of lives have been sacrificed and their deaths are exactly traceable to intent. The figures tell us that over five million soldiers have been wounded and this number is equivalent to every man, woman and child in Illinois.

Money Cost of War.

"In dollars and cents the nations at war are spending four hundred million a week and one and a half billions a month, and more than twenty billions have been spent the past year. Three countries have just increased their indebtedness by eight billion dollars to meet war expenses. To meet the demands of warfare the means of wounding and exterminating men have been developed and lives are endangered by shafts from the clouds and by torpedoes that come from the depths of the sea; the short range rifles have been changed for long range rifles, and the cannon have been exchanged for the larger and more deadly kind. The inventive genius of man has been and is being taxed to devise more deadly means for killing his fellowmen. Yet the nations at war are not heathen but Christian nations. They address prayers to a common God and then rise up to take each other's lives. So there is nothing in history to compare with this conflict. It would be bad enough if the nations at war were the only sufferers, but the noise pollution which comes from such a conflict touches all the nations of the world. Even the little Latin republics are kept busy in their efforts to keep neutral and they are all in danger by some bit of neglect of being sucked into the conflict. Our nation suffers the most because we are the greatest of the neutrals and because we have conducted most of our foreign business with the nations engaged in the conflict. The laws are such that it was possible for the merchant ships to which we had consigned our cargoes to be interned and become useless to commerce during the length of the war. Because of the scarcity of ships and the increase in risk in traversing the sea, it has cost seven times as much as normal to carry a bale of cotton across the sea. In California I was told recently that because of these conditions that the cost of transporting a bushel of wheat from a Pacific coast point to Europe has increased threefold, and thus these facts reveal how the world at large suffers.

Laws Made for Warring Nations.
"International laws seem to be moulded for the benefit of the nations that fight. Let us hope that the day is not far distant that these laws will be so revised that they will be plainly for those nations that keep peace. If all the newspapers of the country had followed Mr. Wilson's suggestions they would have been neutral, but there have grown up two groups of newspapers that have not followed in the pathway that he outlined, the pro-German group and the pro-English group, and these papers are not in the habit of giving their readers all the facts. We have disputes with both Germany and England. We have disputed with Germany because of the conduct of her submarines and with England because of her interference with our trade with neutrals. Let us remember that neither of these nations is unfriendly to us and neither has intent to do us harm. Whatever wrong is done to us is incidental to the contest that they are waging. Our positions like that of bystanders who watch as men fight in the street and are struck by flying weapons. Both nations in answer to our charges plead necessity. It would be bad enough to go to war with a nation that hates us, but God forbid that we shall ever go to war with a nation which does not want to fight us.

Not a Race War.
"This great war in Europe is not based upon race hatred, for we find Saxon and Slav fighting together with Teuton and Turk allied. Neither is it a religious war. There have been such wars in history, although it is hard for us to understand them, for we think that the way to prove our religion is not to kill those who do not believe it but to so live our religion that our conduct will prove its superiority. I say it is not a religious war, for in the allied armies, for example, we find Catholics, members of the Greek church and members of the church of England fighting side by side. It is not a family feud based on greed. The emperor of Germany, the king of England and the czar of Russia are cousins, and up to within one month of the war were seemingly on friendly terms and there was frequent exchange of greetings. It would be a libel upon them to say that these men knew there was an underlying cause for war and that they kept still about it. Our problem is to find the cause of the war and to avoid it so far as our own country is concerned.

"Might Make Right" Dangerous Precept.
"Looking into the question we will find underlying this war as a cause the doctrine that might makes right. We cannot have one code of morals among men unless nations are to be governed by that same code. I was impressed with a recent cartoon of McCutcheon's in which one figure represented war and the other anarchy. Upon the breast of one was the motto 'might is right' and upon the other 'dynamite is right', and challenge you to draw a line of distinction between the two statements so impressively made. Ah, the king of old, to gain a vineyard that he desired, broke three commandments: 'Thou shalt not covet', 'Thou shalt not steal', 'Thou shalt not kill'. Nations must be governed by the same commandments as individuals and no line of reasoning can hold a nation guiltless that does violate these commandments. It is possible in this country for a man to steal so much that he gains the applause of some of his fellows, and it is possible for a nation to covet so strongly and to acquire so much that the very stealing may come to be deemed patriotism, but the commandments 'Thou shalt not covet and 'thou shalt not kill' were given to us with qualification as to men and nations. Nations cannot follow the principle that might makes right unless they repudiate all moral law. If one nation in warfare is cruel, another seeks to be more so; if one is inhuman, the other becomes a rival, and so in this great war the nations seem to be neck and neck in a race for cruelty honors. There are some people who emphasize the thought that war is a moral tonic and they do not stop to remember that if it were so we would arrange for wars. But the world does not arrange such plans for the world does not believe in war. When at the beginning of the present conflict President Wilson proposed mediation each nation replied in almost identical form, each maintaining that he did not begin the war and had no responsibility for its beginning. I congratulate the world that no ruler would admit that he wanted or caused this awful conflict.

Attacked Preparedness Plea.
"Now in this country we have a class of citizens making a plea for preparedness. I believed that this war would silence this argument forever, for if preparedness had been a preventive measure this present war would not have happened. The nations best prepared for war were into the conflict first. I believe that had this country been fully prepared for war that we would have been dragged into the conflict before this date. You cannot carry on a plan for preparedness except under the leadership of men who are extremists in this policy. They would fasten upon us the dual standard of honor which we had a hundred years ago. Then if a man was challenged he must consent to fight. No difference if he had wife or children dependent upon him, the rules of honor decreed that he must fight. Alexander Hamilton was killed in such a duel but he left us a signed statement that he did not believe in the duel yet he feared that if he did not accept the challenge that his usefulness to his country would end. Today every state in the union has a law which prevents the duel.

Answering a Challenge.
"Fifty years ago when a Georgia statesman was challenged he sent back a reply: 'No, I have a family and a soul, and as you have neither I do not believe that we would meet upon a common ground, and so I say no'. So today if this nation were challenged I believe that we should send back the same answer because we have the safety of a hundred million souls at stake, and because we have priceless ideals to preserve. We should each one of us be thankful now as we will be through the years, that we have a president who in doctrine and practice loves peace. Another reason for maintaining peace is that the American people would not be willing to bear the burden of the war unless it was shown to them that they were about to be attacked. Some 'jingo' papers have attempted to point to the danger from Japan or some great European nation, and some papers have compared our condition to that of Belgium. In that country there are seven and a half million people, and in our own one hundred million people. Belgium is divided from surrounding countries by an imaginary line, and we are separated by an ocean three thousand miles wide. Judging from the difficulty which England has had in transporting soldiers across a twenty-mile channel, how great would be the dangers besetting an attacking nation in transporting its armies across an expanse of three thousand miles! The last battleship that this government built cost fifteen million, and each year the United States is devoting but twenty-three million dollars to its agricultural department, yet one torpedo would sink that war vessel.

Hard Roads as Defense Aid.
The defense league not long since presented figures to support an argument that three hundred million dollars was needed for the development of our navy and one hundred and fifty million for the development of our army. These figures do not seem excessive if the plan for development advocated by a writer in the Literary Digest were to be followed. This plan would require the expenditure of a yearly sum which would in eleven years amount to five billion dollars. On the Pacific Coast recently I found great stretches of hard roads being built which lessened the cost of transportation to the farmers and as a result auto trucks operated between certain points and already cut the freight rates in half. The reports of the government show that the average cost of one mile of macadam in this country sixteen feet wide is $6,000. I have raised this figure to $8,333, which means that three miles of road can be constructed for $25,000. It is 3,000 miles from ocean to ocean and 1,200 miles from the Canadian line to the gulf. If you were to build 60 transcontinental hard roads located just twelve miles apart, and if you were to build roads just twelve miles apart from east to west for the entire distance from Canada to the gulf, the total cost would be less than eleven billion dollars that some of our friends are advocating for preparedness. If we were attacked by a foreign nation the first means of defense would be to transport our armies to the coast, and what greater step in preparedness could be taken than these hard roads. No farmer would be more than six miles distant from a macadam road leading in each direction across the country, and in case of war the farmers in their Ford cars could hurry our soldiers to the coast. Considering the question from another standpoint, the capital and surplus of all the state and national banks of the country are less than four billion dollars and so with much less than the sum suggested for preparedness we could duplicate every bank in the country and make available for credit twice their present resources. Preparedness years of growing hatred will eventually lead to war. If we begin to follow a policy of preparedness it would mean that other nations would vie with us in efforts to attain still greater preparedness and with one result only possible—bankruptcy for all.

Plea for Treaties.
"If we were to change our policy in this regard the time is not now, and we should wait until the present conflict is over and we know what is really needed. Let us not catch the rabies of the war jogs of Europe and thus join in the spread of this war hydrophobia. Let us now consider the way out of this great war. Some people believe that it must go on until one side has annihilated the other, or until some one nation is supreme above all the rest. Read history and you have the answer to this argument. What the world needs is not a nation which masters and directs it, but rather friendship between the great nations of the world. It is the duty of the United States to try to bring this very condition to pass. The trouble with Europe has been that it has developed machinery for war and not for peace. The United States was in just as bad a condition until three years ago. Then we had twenty-five treaties which lasted only for five years and did not cover many questions relating to honor and independence. Now the U. S. has thirty treaties with nations representing three-fourths the population of the world. These treaties have marked such an advance that I believe in years to come the names of Wilson and Bryan will be linked with these documents in the capitals of all the nations. The treaties as now drawn have continuous length of life and there are no exceptions. They provide that a year must be given before there can be a declaration of war. When a year is up the nation can act independently.

Let People Vote on War.
"I would like to see the time when war is an impossibility, but there has not been sufficient development along this line to permit that policy. I believe with the thought expressed by another, that war should be voted by the people and not on them. They ought to be consulted in a question which so vitally concerns their own welfare and happiness. I believe too, in the theory announced by someone that not only should the people be allowed to vote upon the war question but those who vote favorably should be the first to enlist. I should be in favor, too, of some 'jingo' editors occupying the front rank so that they might have the honor of making the first sacrifice for their country. The United States has offered the principles of our treaties to all the world and a number of the most powerful nations have accepted them. In our own case I should believe in using a treaty after diplomacy fails, and I would rather expect war than to be a party to it. If we are to have difficulties with any nation now engaged in war it would be better for us to wait until the present conflict is over than to be drawn into it. The nations now at war would not give so much consideration to our demands as to the effect their answer will have upon the other nations. If we are to fight it will be better for us to fight alone than allied with any other nations.

U. S. Has Great Duty.
"I am opposed to war because I am not willing to sacrifice our soldiers. Say that it would take only one hundred thousand, I would not be willing to sacrifice them because one hundred of our fellow citizens exerted their rights and went down to sea. These citizens did have a right to go, but I believe that there is sometimes a difference between right and duty and that it is sometimes a duty not to exert one's rights. It is a duty sometimes to look after our country's welfare rather than to have our country look after our own individual welfare. In times of war it is possible for the government to go to the homes and make soldiers out of citizens and I believe that it is entirely right for a government to tell its citizens they must keep out of danger. I would object to war, too, because of the money expenditure. I noticed just before I left Washington that one paper there advocated the immediate expenditure of a billion dollars for the improvement of the army and navy. We cannot be belligerents and remain neutral, and I crave for this nation the honor of taking some steps that may later on make for peace. Now above all other is the time that we must apply the doctrine of Christ, and we cannot send the gospel to other nations and not apply it in our own case."

CHAPIN
Chapin vicinity was visited with a heavy rainfall Monday afternoon and night. Roads are quite muddy.
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Drake entertained Saturday evening for their son, Charles Edward. It being his sixth birthday anniversary. He received several tokens of remembrance, among which was a birthday cake with six pink candles and rose holders. A splendid supper was served at 7 o'clock and the evening was enjoyed by all.

Ina Anderson of Pittsfield is spending a few days with relatives and friends in and near Chapin.
Miss Grathel Bushard has returned to home in Decatur after spending her vacation with her cousin, Nellie Callaway. She also visited with relatives in Rigston and Jacksonville during her stay.

Harry Anderson has returned to his home in Pittsfield accompanied by his cousin, Eva Anderson of Chapin, after spending a few days with relatives.
The many friends of Mrs. Calvin Nash are much grieved to hear of her death and all sympathize with the family.

Everett Callay and sister, Nellie, and cousin, Grathel Bushard, Ha Vincent, John Taylor and Harry Anderson spent Sunday at the home of Eva Anderson.

INJURED BY COWS.
John Stewart residing on the Mound Road, met with a singular accident Thursday evening after releasing from their stalls some cows after milking. With a pall full of milk he started to go out of the barn door, when two cows, one going in and the other going out the same time, caught Mr. Stewart between them, wedging him so closely that he could not release himself until he was knocked over against a manger and had the ligaments in one of his shoulders torn loose. He received severe bruises on his shoulder and side. It was unfortunate for Mr. Stewart as he will be detained in the house for some days when he is needed to attend to his farm work. He is getting along, it is thought as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

BOARD OF REVIEW SITTING.
The county commissioners were sitting as a board of review Friday, Thursday the members went to Waverly and viewed property on which objection had been made as to the assessment. The board has a number of other parts of the country to visit. No report will be made on the objections until all the property in question has been viewed.

TO ADJUST ROW OVER CASH FOR ALASKA RAILROAD

U. S. Bondholders Seek to Show Canadian Capitalists Had No Right to Sell Without Their Consent.

Washington, August 20.—The motion for an injunction against the government paying to Canadian capitalists the purchase price for the Alaska Northern railroad which was purchased as the nucleus of the government-owned railway system in Alaska, may come up for hearing today in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. The bondholders in the United States brought the action in June, alleging that the Canadian bondholders have no right to sell the road without their consent, and further, that if the money is paid by the government to the Canadian Trust Co., as provided in the contract of sale, that it will be sent beyond the jurisdiction of the American courts and make it impossible for the American bondholders to protect their interests.

It is believed that an adjustment will be reached between the Canadian and the American interests whereby the first payment, which has been delayed pending the outcome of the court action, can be made to a receiver. When the equity suit was heard here in June, the motion for an injunction was extended until today, in order that the Canadian interests might be notified, and meanwhile the government promised to postpone the first payment.

The American bondholders in the action include John R. Thompson, city treasurer of Chicago; E. A. Shedd & Co., Chicago bankers, and others. The Chicagoans claim an amount over $100,000.

The purchase price of the Alaska Northern is $1,150,000. The government made its deal with the G. T. Clarkson committee of Canadians. This committee, it is charged by the United States bondholders, made a secret arrangement to pay August Hecksher of New York $200,000 for assistance in promoting the sale, this money to come out of the proceeds. It is also charged by the American bondholders that the Canadian vendors of the road held no actual and valid title, and that they have been acting secretly and in conspiracy to defraud the plaintiffs and others who have equities in the property. Thompson and Shedd are said to have advanced the money to build the first 25 miles of the railroad. The old Alaska Northern has undergone reorganization. Needless incumbrances in the form of new bonds held by the Canadian banks have been heaped upon the liabilities of the road, it is claimed in the suit.

CAME IN AN AUTO.
Rev. C. G. Cantrall thinks he is entitled to the honor of being the first man to arrive in the city yesterday in an automobile to attend the chautauqua. His home is two miles west of Litchberry and he was determined to visit the chautauqua yesterday and accordingly he and his wife boarded their Ford car and started. They did very well till they reached Snake Creek where some grading had been done recently and the mud was up to the fenders of the car but they plowed along and made the trip without accident.

Mr. Cantrall brought to the train his daughter, Mrs. E. D. Arnett of Jackson, Michigan, who returned to her home with her two children after a pleasant visit with her parents.

ATTENDED BAPTIST CONVENTION.
Mrs. E. Rhining of Beardstown was in the city Friday enroute to her home after attending the three days session of the Sandy Creek Baptist missionary association at East Union. There was a large attendance and interesting and instructive meetings were held each of the three days. The dinners and suppers were of the kind known as basket meals, the breakfasts being provided by the entertainers of the visitors. The attendance was about 500. The location of the meeting for next year is Rockbridge, Pike county.

RAISING WHEAT
Europe, it would raise twice as much wheat on the same amount of ground. But this would compel us to ship five times as much wheat to Europe and would make it possible for the women to stop farming and go to fighting. On the whole it is more humans for us to be unscientific.

Anyway the scientists don't seem to realize that this country raises all the wheat it needs and has plenty of time to spend on other things. The European works from dawn till dark on his postage stamp farm, raising a large amount of wheat per acre. But the American seeds down a township in the fall, grabs a tramp by the neck to help in the harvest in July and spends the rest of the year driving his automobile.

One-fourth of the population can raise all the food we need. This is why this country is producing such lumpy and imposing figures in manufactures and other lines. This is also the reason why the automobile business has become a phenomenon in this country. Other nations could build as many autos, but they wouldn't have time to run them. They are too busy raising too much wheat per acre.

It is better to turn a gasoline engine and a ten horsepower reaper loose in a wheat field than to try to imitate their performance with women and children. We don't much wheat per acre but we seem to get almighty contented and financially adipose while raising what we do.

MRS. EMILY BERRY HENDERSON DIES AT HOME NEAR CONCORD

Passes Away Friday Night After Many Months' Illness—Funeral Arrangements to Be Announced Later.

Mrs. Emily Berry Henderson, who has been ill for several months, passed away Friday night at 11 o'clock at the family home near Concord. She was one of the long time residents of the county and a woman widely known and highly esteemed.

Emily Berry was born January 3d, 1844, about two and a quarter miles north of Concord, Ill. Here she lived until January 22nd, 1863, when she was united in marriage to Francis M. Henderson, who died October 14th, 1903. They lived one year with Silas Henderson, Sr., and went to housekeeping on an adjoining farm where they lived for about two years moving from there to a newly purchased farm two and three-quarter miles from Concord. Here they lived for 16 years, then moved back to the present homestead. In 1867 Mother Henderson was converted and became a charter member of what is now the Concord Christian Church and has been a consistent and loyal supporter of the same for nearly 48 years, a record equalled by only one other member living.

The children of Mrs. Henderson are as follows: Silas M. and Lula E., the latter living with her mother and the son living on the same farm in one of the two dwellings. The grandchildren, six in number, being the children of Silas M. and Alverta L. Henderson are as follows: Ruth E., Donald W., Miriam F. and Leland V., Marion F. and Howard E. These children have grown up in nearly the same home and were a source of pleasure to the grandmother in the last years.

Mrs. Henderson was one of a family of nine children as follows: Mrs. Sarah Green, Mrs. Mary Ann Nash, Mrs. Elizabeth Wiswell, Mrs. Amanda Sandefer, (Emily Henderson), John H. Berry, Mrs. Aretta Ewerick, Mrs. Louie Stambaugh, and William S. Berry. Of this number all are dead except Mrs. John Sandefer, of Springfield, Iowa, and John H. Berry, of Johnson county, Iowa, near Iowa city.

Mother Henderson lived for over 71 years near her birthplace or in other words her entire life had been spent less than three miles from the town of Concord. When she was yet a little girl the stagecoach made regular trips past her mother's door. Now the Burlington railroad passes near the same house and the stage coach is all but forgotten. She has been in failing health for some months and received good medical attention but would not take to her bed until her strength gave out. Internal cancers has been the cause of her last sickness. She has been a sturdy, industrious home loving member of the community in which she lived and will be remembered by many for her kindness and help.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

HAVE RETURNED FROM WESTERN TRIP
Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gillham returned Thursday night from a visit of several weeks in the west. They visited in Colorado Springs and Manitou, Wash., where they were guests of Judge John Gordon. He is a son of the late John Gordon of this city and at one time postmaster in Jacksonville. While in Seattle Mr. and Mrs. Gillham made a trip to Mount Ranier Park. This park is situated 120 miles from Seattle and the trip was made by automobile. Mr. Gillham says that eighty miles of this road is built of asphalt. It is an excellent roadway. Mr. Gillham says that most of the paving in cities here visited was made of asphalt and that Jacksonville seems to be the only city in the country slow about adopting it generally.

RAISING WHEAT
Raising wheat is not as spectacular or glorious as raising the variety of Tophet which prevails in Europe just now, but it is much more necessary.

If the United States was to refrain from raising wheat for a year or two in these peculiar times, most of Europe would be seized with severe cramps and might even have to postpone hostilities.

Thus raising wheat in this country is not only a business but a duty. We must not only feed ourselves but must set the table for millions of foreigners who are too busy effecting each other to grab the business end of a ploy and speak to a mule in an authoritative tone of voice.

This is also the reason why the automobile business has become a phenomenon in this country. Other nations could build as many autos, but they wouldn't have time to run them. They are too busy raising too much wheat per acre.

BOSTON GETS EARLY LEAD; DOWNS CHICAGO

RED SOX DRIVE BENZ OFF THE MOUND IN FIRST INNING.

Russell Holds Boston Down After First Inning. With the Exception of the Seventh—Detroit Swamps Philadelphia.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Boston defeated Chicago 4 to 1 here today, driving Benz off the mound in the first inning. One run had scored, Gardner then doubled off Russell and two more visitors scored which handicapped the locals were unable to overcome. The score:

AREZVILLE.
A recital was given by pupils of Miss Elizabeth Slaughter, of Jacksonville Wednesday evening at this place. A splendid program was rendered consisting of vocal and instrumental music. The pupils displayed splendid training received from Miss Slaughter. A duet by Miss Slaughter and Mrs. L. Weeks, in their characteristic manner, delighted the audience.
A very pleasant birthday celebration, the 62nd, was that of Charles Heinz, of St. Louis, at the home of his sister, Mrs. M. B. Shrewsbury, Aug. 19. The affectionate relatives congregated to help Mr. Heinz observe the day. It was of unusual pleasure and all enjoyed themselves to the utmost. At noon when Mr. Heinz arrived from his home, dinner was served to all. After the dinner Victrola music and impromptu musical numbers afforded engagement during the remaining hours. Many old friends called to talk over childhood days and the guest of honor will have pleasant remembrances of the day.
A miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. A. L. Weeks, who was lately married, was given at the home of Miss Nina Carter and all participants enjoyed the festivities of the occasion. A splendid lunch was served. Music and social conversation served to while away the hours most delightfully; many good wishes were extended by departing guest.
Mrs. and Mr. J. A. Weeks entertained newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Her-extended by departing guest.
(Weeks, and as is always the case, was a most delightful affair. Music furnished pleasing variety for the guests and an excellent luncheon was planned for all and to the credit of the hostess it may be said that complete satisfaction was felt when the pleasant evening was brought to a close.

"THE WHOLE TRUTH"

Says Mrs. Eads, in Writing Her Praise For Cardui.

Circleville, Ohio.—"All I have said about Cardui, the woman's tonic, is the whole truth," says Mrs. Fannie Eads, of R. F. D. No. 6, this town.

"I suffered with womanly weakness, and pains in my back and limbs for two long years. I was so bad off, I could hardly walk at all.

My husband advised me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I concluded to follow his advice. After taking Cardui according to directions, I now feel like a new woman, and can do all of my work.

Before taking Cardui, I was a walking skeleton; now I weigh 150 pounds. I recommend Cardui to every suffering woman, for I know what it did for me. My dresser is never without a bottle of Cardui on it."

There is no reason why Cardui won't help you, just as it has Mrs. Eads, as well as hundreds of thousands of other women in the past 50 years. So if you suffer from any of the many ailments so common to women, or need a good strengthening tonic for that tired, nervous, worn-out feeling, get a bottle of Cardui today. At all druggists.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL.

A KNUCKLE OF VEAL.

As veal is the least heating of all meats it is excellent for hot weather and it is especially fine in flavor when served cold.

With a knuckle of veal one can make several substantial meat dishes that will be dainty and satisfying. Following are directions for

HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL

Veal Loaf, Jellyed Veal and Veal Scallop. For any one of the three boil a well broken knuckle of veal in sufficient salt water to cover it until the meat comes from the bones easily and the water is almost boiled away. The seasoning should be cooked with the meat; the chopped carrot, onion, parsley and celery with pepper, corns, blade of mace and three cloves in a loose bag. Other seasoning may be used as liked. For the jellyed veal strain the liquor from the meat and strain it a second time to make it clear. Pour a little of this into a brick mold or square bread pan and chill it. Ornament this with slices of hard boiled egg and a slice of parsley. When this is firmly set fill the mold with chopped veal and the remainder of the broth. Remember when making this that when cold and out of the mold the bottom of the jellyed mass will be inverted and become the top.

This is very handsome with pepper salad.

Veal Loaf—3 pounds of veal meat cooked and chopped fine.

One half pound of chopped ham or salt pork.

Yolks of three eggs.

One cup of fine bread crumbs or rolled crackers.

One teaspoon salt and half a teaspoon of pepper.

One teaspoon onion juice.

One tablespoon lemon juice.

Two tablespoons of butter.

Mix everything but the butter and press into a greased mold. Spread the butter over top and bake basting with hot water when butter is browned, for forty minutes. Serve hot with brown gravy or cold with tomato sauce.

Veal Scallop—Put layers of chopped, seasoned cooked veal and bread crumbs into a baking dish and over all pour a rich white sauce. Sprinkle buttered crumbs over top and bake.

Questions and Answers.

Will you please recommend a good onion seasoning? Have heard there is a salt flavored with onion.

Reply—You will find onion salt and onion extract on sale at my dealer's, but I think it more satisfactory to extract juice from fresh onions. I use a lemon squeezer for this.

"How can I keep the fruit juices in my pie and out of my oven?"

Reply—Wet narrow strips of cloth in water and bind the edges of the pastry with them; Stick the two crusts together with white of egg. Fold the under crust up over the top one and press together; Sprinkle a little flour over the fruit before putting on the upper crust, or make a stiff paper funnel and place in the middle of the pie to carry away the steam.

"Can leather stains be removed from silk hose? Have tried gasoline and soap and water.—Serious."

Reply—Make a lather of soap and add borax to this; wash the hose with it and if the stains remain add ammonia and try again. They should not be obstinate unless the leather was dyed.

"Please print a reliable recipe for taffy for a candy pull; want one that will pull white; also molasses taffy. Mother."

Reply—One and a half cups molasses, one-half cup granulated sugar, tablespoon butter, flavoring, tablespoon vinegar. Cook until it hardens in water. For dark taffy use all molasses.

Tomorrow—Summer time desserts

MR. ENTWISTLE WRITES ABOUT FISH COMMISSION WORK

Rivers and Other Streams Have Been Stocked With Fish Especially Suitable For Different Localities—Lauds Governor.

J. M. Entwistle, of Havana, district game and fish warden, has recently prepared for publication the following statement with reference to the work of the commission which he is serving. The article refers particularly to the work being done for the conservation and development of the fishing interests of the state and was sent to the Journal by G. J. Dowell, of Franklin, deputy game warden. Nimrods and all interested in game and fish will find the article gives considerable information. Mr. Entwistle declared Gov. Dunne has done much for fish and game conservation work.

"All the sporting fishermen in the State, as well as the commercial fishermen, should take their hats off to Governor Dunne and the Fish and Game Commission for the great work that is being carried out by this Commission under Dunne's instructions. The work is nothing more or less than the stocking of public rivers and streams in the State with the different varieties of fish which are suitable for that particular water and locality. Within a year this commission will have made such a large distribution of fish that practically every county in the state will have a good fishing ground, within two or three years of these fish. Previous administrations gave very little care to the public waters, in the conserving of the fish and the result has been that some of the finest streams in the state are entirely devoid of fish of all kinds. When these smaller streams and lakes are restocked and the fish conserved, by setting them aside as State Fish Preserves, the general public will then realize what has been done for their benefit by the present administration."

"The last session of the Legislature voted an appropriation for a fish car for the special purpose of transporting fish from the different State Hatcheries and from the reservoirs, with this car, which will be completed about the first or middle of October, this department can handle in an economical manner and with practically no loss of fish, fifty thousand to a million fish at a time, depending upon the size of the fish."

"They have not only planted the fry and fingerling sizes, but during the last year have mated up adult fish and placed them in hundreds of localities where they would spawn naturally. The principal kinds of fish used to stock these streams were the large mouth black bass, the small mouthed black bass, pike, perch, yellow perch, sunfish, croppie and catfish. Some of the northern waters they intend to stock with the different varieties of trout.

Commercial streams, like the Illinois and some of the other rivers they intend to stock with buffalo and other varieties of commercial fish."

"There are thousands of people in the state who enjoy a day's fishing but who cannot afford to leave home where they have to pay railroad fare and board, for the purpose of catching a few fish. Within two years they will be able to catch all the fish they want in their home county. This will not only give the poor people thousands of dollars worth of cheap food but it will give them the added pleasure of catching the fish without much expense."

"The appropriation for the Game Farm, which was located in Sangamon County, was wisely vetoed by the Governor as a useless and very expensive department. Under the present law and plan of the commission a Preserve will be established in practically every county, each one covering from one to three thousand acres. These grounds will be posted and the native birds which use these Preserves as a refuge will be fed by the department and distributed from there to the other parts of the county. Voluntary assistance in this work will be given by the farmers who allow their land to be set aside as a game Preserve. The cost of each Preserve will be about $50 per county. The increase in the number of quail, prairie chicken, and other game birds will be very noticeable within two years."

"The Rivers and Lakes Commission and the Fish and Game Commission have been very active in prohibiting the pollution of the different streams and rivers throughout the State. This, together with the activity in preventing the poisoning, by private parties of meandered waters, will conserve the natural breeding grounds of the fish and a very noticeable increase will be apparent within a few years. People throughout the state, as a rule, do not realize the importance of this work or the amount of work being carried out by the Commission under the instructions from the Governor. If they did, they would volunteer to assist this department in their work by reporting violations, enabling us to prosecute. There were only sixty deputy wardens in the State until July 1st, when the last session of the Legislature allowed an increase of 18 deputy wardens."

"In district number three, in charge of J. M. Entwistle, whose headquarters are at Havana, there are over 12,000 sq. mi. of territory with 50,000 hunters, about 2,000 commercial fishermen and at least 100,000 sporting fishermen. By sporting fishermen I mean those who fish with a hook and line just for the sport of catching them. This district is patrolled now by twenty-two regular deputy wardens who put in all their time working for the State, but there are so many bayous, lakes and streams where the people can hunt and fish that it is impossible to cover the entire area daily and prohibit all violations. The State Game and Fish law is being enforced better than at any time in the history of the State, but like all other laws either national or state there are always some people who are continually violating them.

"This department asks for, and it is up to every individual in the state who is interested in hunting and fishing to lend his co-operation in the carrying out of this work and in the gaining and eliminating violations. A great many counties have a local Protective League. This department would like to get in touch with all such organizations and would suggest that where there are no local Protective Leagues of this nature, that a few of the leaders who are interested in conserving the Game and Fish get together and organize a Protective League and assist in every way with such an organization. The farmers are of great help to us in keeping the hunters from killing birds out of season."

"The commercial fishermen are rendering great service by educating the men who catch the fish to throw back all small fish while they are alive instead of bringing them into the markets. They are beginning to realize that all small fish thrown back soon mature to legal sized fish and they are the ones who are benefited by the increase."

"The hunting clubs, as a rule, are now working in harmony with this department and rendering good service in maintaining the law on ducks and all migratory birds which come to their grounds. A great many clubs have rigid rules which call for the expulsion of a member who violates the State Law."

"Politics should be entirely eliminated from this Department. We are working along conservation lines for the benefit of the public and the public should render us their assistance."

FRANKLIN HOME-COMING CALLED OFF BECAUSE OF RAIN

As a result of the continued heavy rain of Friday the festivities connected with the Franklin Home Coming were called off for this year. Selecting a time when it was thought the weather would be most propitious the Franklin committee lent every effort to make the event this year a memorable one. There was nothing lacking on their part, either of spirit or equipment, and the weather was the only thing which prevented the Home-Coming from being what it was anticipated. As far as the storm would permit, the various owners of concessions busied themselves yesterday in pulling up stakes and by Saturday night, the park will have again resumed its normal aspect and the citizens will look toward the celebration for 1916.

MATRIMONIAL

Watkins-Steer.
Ted Watkins and Miss Daisy Steer, both of this city, were united in marriage Wednesday at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Joseph Mann, in Beardstown. The news of their marriage no doubt will come as a surprise to their many friends. The groom is in the employ of Roberts Bros. grocery store and is highly regarded by his employers. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Steer, of 674 South West street. She has been employed for several years at the cigar factory of McCarthy and Gebert. Mr. and Mrs. Watkins will make their home at 674 South West street.

Burton-Doyle.
Perry Ward Burton and Miss Martha Doyle, both of Wright, Greene county, were married at the court house at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning. The ceremony was said by the Rev. John W. Priest. Both parties are well known and highly respected in the community in which they live. The groom is a farmer and they will make their home in Wright.

Ott-Staley.
The marriage of Stanley Ott and Miss Hazel Staley will take place this evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Staley in Loami. The ceremony will be witnessed by only immediate relatives of the young people. Miss Irene Park, a cousin of the bride, expected to attend the wedding.

MORTUARY

Christopher.
Mrs. Frank H. Cogswell of 1330 West College avenue, received word yesterday of the death of her uncle, B. F. Christopher, who passed away very suddenly Thursday at his home in Girard. He was 70 years of age and was a retired farmer. Mr. Christopher married Miss Laura Goodrich of Macoupin county who survives him and the following children: Joseph of Minneapolis, Archibald of Texas, Mrs. William Long of Girard and Mrs. William Trimble, residing nine miles west of Girard.

Mrs. Cogswell expected to go to Girard this morning to attend the funeral.

Herald.
Word has been received by E. D. Herald of the death of his cousin, Edward W. Herald in Seattle, Wash., last Saturday. Mr. Herald's death was very sudden. He went to his office as usual and at 10:30 o'clock he began to complain of severe pains. A physician was quickly summoned and he was taken to his home where he died an hour and a half after.

Physicians claim that his death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage following an attack of acute uremic poisoning.

Mr. Herald went to Seattle 26 years ago and at the time of his death was rated a millionaire. He was president and general manager of the Benton-Herald Desk Co. He built the Herald hotel on Terry avenue and the Regent apartment building. He was a member of the Trainers club of the Chamber of Commerce, the Commercial club and the Y. M. C. A. He was also a member of the Seattle club and of the Union club of Tacoma.

Besides his mother, Mrs. Anna E. Herald, he leaves two brothers, Charles Herald, a Tacoma theater owner, and Ernest B. Herald, an attorney of Seattle. Mr. Herald was 42 years of age.

BIBLE CONFERENCE AT WINONA LAKE.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 20.—The annual bible conference at Winona Lake opened today with an unusual attendance and a program of able speakers. The conference extends until the 29th. Among the foreign speakers are Rev. G. Campbell Morgan and Rev. A. C. Dixon, both of London. Among the great church sessions that are being held in connection with the Bible conference are the young women's conference, the Jews' conference, Winona Christian schools, church efficiency congress, conference of foreign missionaries, and the annual meeting of the International Association of Evangelists, and August 26 will be Evangelists' Day at Winona Lake.

WOMAN OF 77 SEES NATURALIZATION.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 20.—Miss Mimmi Meek, who is 77 years old tomorrow, feeling that she has attained a discreet age, she has declared her intention of becoming a citizen of the United States so that she may take a homestead. With all the vigor of a person in middle age, she told Clerk of Courts Nelson she intends to get her 160 acres of government land just as soon as the land office looks over her papers, which have been forwarded to Washington.

CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM CARRIED OUT DESPITE THE DESCENDING FLOODS

Appreciative Audience Hears Bob Seeds Last Night and Considerable Number Attend Bryan Lecture in Afternoon—A Good Program Today—Chautauqua Notes.

"The Mistakes of Life" was the theme of an hour-and-a-quarter lecture at the Jacksonville chautauqua last night by Bob Seeds, well known Pennsylvania humorist and renowned entertainer. Rains descended and floods came, but Seeds was equal to the test and expounded the gospel of good cheer with faith undimmed and courage undampened. Mr. Seeds has been on the platform ten years and has talked in every state. "The hardest job of lecturing I ever tackled in my life," he said on completing an address which was saved from failure by Mr. Seeds' own resourcefulness and the forbearance and appreciative adaptability of "one of the best audiences a speaker ever faced."

The L. A. C. orchestra was on hand punctually and gave a musical performance, from which wind and roar of rain could not detract. The eight young women have a well balanced organization and the fact that they appear on the program but one day is the only regret in connection with their coming.

Today's Program Without Change.
Dr. Samuel Alden Perrine will be the speaker tonight and the stereoscopic views with which he illustrates "The World at War" are not to be duplicated in this country. Dr. Perrine is a first hand observer and is especially good on questions dealing with the far east.

Dr. Perrine will speak at 8:30 o'clock, just after an hour-long concert by Walter Eccles and the College girls. While in the city he will be a guest of Dr. F. S. Hayden, dean of Illinois college.

Walter Eccles and the College girls have a musical entertainment of the first order. Both popular and classical airs are contained in their repertoire. With sacred and operatic numbers they especially excel. The college girls will open the program this afternoon with a half-hour concert at 2 o'clock and after them will appear John H. Walker, of Springfield, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor. Mr. Walker has worked himself up from the ranks. He understands the problems of labor because he has lived the life of a laboring man and added to experience, reading and study.

Attendance Was Noteworthy.
Twelve hundred people made their way to the grounds Friday afternoon and heard the address by Mr. Bryan. There seemed no letup in the downpour but despite rain and mud, the audience met the situation with good nature and patience.

Fifty-six "braved the elements" for the evening lecture. The rain had freshened and the assembling company were not without the air of martyrs, forgetting discomfort soon however in the enjoyment of good music and the appreciation of witty shaft and barbed remark. "This is the greatest, grandest and best of all worlds I have ever seen," said Mr. Seeds, "and I won't stand for any one running it down. On the platform and to the speaker's left sat the stage manager, resourceful and unruffled. Mr. Bancroft's words of welcome were well put and cheerful and his work throughout the day in fact speak well for his ability to comprehend and command a different situation.

Some Remain in Tents.
Camping was not generally indulged in yesterday, though all seemed hopeful that the second day would see a change. A number remained at their tents during the day and at night some few tents were occupied. All possible will be done for the public comfort, stated A. C. Rice, secretary of the chautauqua association, last night, the effort first made to be toward lessening the mud.

Street car service was all that could be expected and the company demonstrated fully its intention of serving the public well during the chautauqua season. Three extra and one regular car traversed the South Main street line and two more can be put into service at any time. To insure good service, the pay-as-you-enter arrangement was temporarily done away with and two men were assigned to the chautauqua cars.

The lunch pavilion on the grounds was in operation and though no large volume of business was done by reason of the day, a sufficient number patronized the stand to demonstrate its utility and convenience for the chautauqua season.

WITH THE SICK.

Mary, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Johnson of Alexander who was brought to Our Savior's hospital to undergo an operation for tonsillitis is doing nicely.

Miss Mildred Grace Miller of West Morton avenue, who underwent an operation at Dr. Day's hospital, was yesterday much improved.

ENTERTAINS FOR GUEST.

Mrs. H. L. Caldwell, 502 North Prairie street, entertained Thursday afternoon for her guest, Miss Marion Kahl of Vermillion, S. D. A company of eighteen were present and the afternoon hours were spent most pleasantly.

WILL LAY TILE IN FLOOR.
John P. McCabe, of Springfield, who has the contract for laying the tile in the office of the new Plaza hotel arrived in the city Friday. Mr. McCabe has the tile and all necessary material here and probably will begin laying tile this morning.

Dr. R. R. Jones of Woodson was among the business callers in the city yesterday.

SOME OTHER INCLEMENT AUGUST DAYS.

The bad weather of yesterday called to mind some other years during which inclement August days were noted.

In 1862 there was an untimely frost which did an immense amount of damage all over the northern part of the country, killing corn and other crops and causing widespread destruction.

Doubtless one of the most notable August days in the history of the country was in 1815. The writer remembers hearing his mother, twelve years old at the time of the storm, tell about it. The day dawned warm and pleasant and people started out without coats. Her father was a physician and went to see a patient and was dressed in light summer clothing but the storm came on and was succeeded by a frost which was the most remarkable of anything of the kind in the century. Chickens were frozen where they stood in the mud; persons going out with thin clothing suffered all manner of inconvenience. The doctor's clothes were frozen stiff by the time he reached home and he himself was more dead than alive. Children returning from school were almost frozen and many bewildered and lost and had to be hunted up by their parents. All kinds of animals and domestic fowls suffered fearfully and many were killed. No other such sudden and severe change, especially at that season of the year, was ever known in the northern part of the country and it would rank as a phenomenon with the deep snow of 1830-1.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Visited Old Home of Dr. H. K. Jones—Entertained at Luncheon by Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Dunlap.

Hon. and Mrs. William J. Bryan arrived in Jacksonville Friday morning and spent the day here. Mr. Bryan made an address at the chautauqua in the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan arrived here via the Chicago & Alton Friday morning, coming from Peoria.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Dunlap and Dr. Carl E. Black were at the station to meet Mr. and Mrs. Bryan. From the station the party went to the residence of the late Dr. Hiram K. Jones, 505 West College avenue. Mr. Bryan roomed with Dr. Jones while attending Illinois college, and Dr. Jones was an instructor at Illinois at that time.

After visiting the Jones residence the party were driven to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Dunlap where luncheon was served. Those present at the luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bryan, Judge and Mrs. Owen P. Thomson, Dr. Carl E. Black, president of the chautauqua association, Horace H. Bancroft, platform manager of the chautauqua and Mrs. Bancroft, Mrs. Irvin Dunlap, mother of M. F. Dunlap, Mrs. S. E. Morton, Mayor H. J. Rodgers, Dr. Grace Dewey, Dr. Josephine Milligan and Mr. and Mrs. Warren V. Price, of Chicago.

Mr. Bryan had an engagement in Virden Friday evening and as the southbound Burlington train was over three hours late it enabled him to leave here over that road.

SUPT. COLLINS IN CITY.

Superintendent of Schools Charles E. Collins, who has been spending his vacation in Chicago, arrived in the city Friday. He was accompanied by his son, John Collins, and by John Fletcher, of Houston, who recently graduated from Crane Polytechnic school in Chicago. Fletcher will enter Illinois College this fall. Mrs. Collins and her daughter will come to the city soon and the family will have rooms at 216 South Church street.

ATTENDING SYNOD.

The Rev. J. G. Kuppler, pastor of Salem Lutheran church, together with H. Sonntag and W. H. Luken, who is a delegate to the synod, are attending the Missouri synod, which is being held at Rock Island. There are present about 150 pastors, teachers and delegates. Some interesting discussions of doctrines and church work are being had. Owing to the fact that the pastor will be absent until next week there will be no services at the church Sunday.

HAND-BALL TOURNAMENT IS NEARING CLOSE.

Competitors Have Narrowed Down to a Few Contenders for the Finals.

The hand-ball tournament that has been creating quite an active interest at the local Y. M. C. A. during the past two weeks is commencing to narrow down to the semi-final and final games. Hembrough defeated Weir Wood and the winner of the Snyder and Vieira match will play Hembrough for the championship.

Many unscheduled games are being played by those not in the tournament as well as those in it. L. S. Recker has taken an active interest but was for a while handicapped owing to the fact that local supply house did not keep wearing apparel sufficiently large to accommodate him. However, Mr. Recker has received a uniform from a special order and he and Fred Darr entered into a match game Friday afternoon for the heavy-weight championship. The games were so evenly matched that it was decided to match them again some day next week or after the chautauqua and invite the general public to witness the game. Recker's suppleness is astonishing for one of his size while "Doc" Darr isn't any "slouch" at the game.

E. M. Johnston, A. Updegraff and Vieira played several games during the afternoon Friday and Irvin Potter and Boyd "chased the ball" for a while.

It is probable that the game between Mr. Recker and Mr. Darr will be staged at the chautauqua during the week. An inspection will be made of the platform at the park and possibly the chautauquians will be treated to a game of hand-ball on the Y. M. C. A. nights after the regular performance by the group that with H. A. Brewer will represent the association.

READY FOR BUSINESS.

The Cannon lunch room on East State street is now ready for business. It will open for serving lunch for all early morning trains.

SPENT SOCIAL EVENING.

Mrs. Joseph Palasky entertained a party of young people at her home on North East street Thursday evening, in honor of her brother, Frank McDonnell, of St. Louis, who is visiting in Jacksonville. Music and games furnished amusement and during the course of the evening refreshments were served.

NO WORD RECEIVED OF RECOVERY OF BODY.

Up till late last night so word had been received here of the finding of the body of Harold Boyd, who met death by drowning in the Grand river, near Gallatin, Mo., Thursday afternoon. The father, Rev. W. A. Boyd, went to Gallatin Friday morning.

GEORGE W. MOORE WILL SOON BE A JACKSONVILLE RESIDENT

Has Purchased the Old Chambers Homestead, 829 West State Street—One of the City's Historic Houses.

Although the deed has not yet been placed on record George W. Moore has purchased from Miss Francis Hook the Old Chambers homestead, 829 West State street. The property is now occupied by M. C. Hook and family and possession is to be given this fall when Mr. Moore and his daughter Miss Eleanor Moore will change their place of residence from the Moore farm near Arnold to the property just purchased.

The Chambers home was erected by the late Colonel George M. Chambers and was finished just before he went to the Mexican war, although the first work on the building was done in 1846. Some older residents remember that this date was cut on the cornice near the northern corner of the house. It was the first brick dwelling erected on West State street and the construction was so substantial that it is still in splendid condition. The property remained in the Chambers family until the settlement of the estate of Col. Chambers who died in 1891, the title passed to Miss Hook. Now the ownership reverts to the family for Mr. Moore's wife was Miss Nancy M. Chambers, and their wedding took place in the home. Mr. Moore has been considering a change of residence to Jacksonville for several years although he was naturally somewhat averse to leaving the farm which had been his home during his entire life. His father, Dr. Edmund Moore, lived on the farm for years and Mr. Moore's unusual record is that of having spent a long life in the old home. However, because of its earlier associations the home in Jacksonville will be by no means new to the present owner.

MORGAN CO. VISITED BY HEAVY RAINFALL

OVER TWO INCHES OF WATER FALLS DURING FRIDAY.

Corn is Blown Flat Throughout the Country and Damage Great to Wheat and Oats in Shock—Water Above C. & A. Tracks at Rood-house.

Morgan county and vicinity was visited Friday by one of the worst rain storms for August in its history. Starting at midnight and continuing all through Friday with no abatement last night, the rain fell continuously, accompanied at times with big gusts of wind, that fairly swept everything before them. With the advent of the big rain, comes the report from all directions of the great havoc done to corn, and to oats and wheat yet in the shock. P. E. Drury who resides east of the city, stated last night that the corn on his premises had been laid low by the wind and rain, and his report was corroborated by other farmers who live in all parts of the county. John Flynn of Clements stated that his corn field looked as though a roller had been run over it.

Corn Laid Low. According to a report from George H. Hall at Alexander, up till sunset Friday night 1 90-100 inches of rain had fallen during the day, and it is safe to predict that long before midnight last night that an inch more had fallen. The steady and long continued downpour loosened the ground so thoroughly that the stalks of corn, with the heavy weight at this time of the season, easily went down at the command of the wind. If such a rain had fallen when the corn was not so fully eared, there would not have been so much doubt about it rising again. As it is, hundreds of acres of corn will be gathered under difficulties this fall, and hundreds of bushels will be sacrificed to the mould and rot from the ground. On account of the inability to get threshing outfits, many farmers as yet, have been unable to get their wheat and oats threshed. A farmer in the southern part of the county stated last night, that in most instances it would mean a total loss.

Pedestrians Fare Badly. Friday opened cold and disagreeable with a temperature of 56. Much discomfort was experienced by pedestrians as the driving wind made it almost impossible to keep out the rain. Many people in the city had fires in the grate and in some instances furnaces were started. Perhaps those who visited the chautauqua grounds yesterday fared the worst. The street car system was taxed to its utmost capacity and then some, to accommodate the people. "Lunching up" was the rule on the cars and many of the coaches were carrying from 75 to 90 passengers.

Water Above Alton Tracks. All branches and creeks in the county are swollen and the roads impassable for automobiles. Reports from Roodhouse last night were to the effect that near that place the Chicago & Alton tracks were under water, but did not prevent the movement of trains, although the regular schedules were not carried out.

Oiling of Streets Abandoned. William Cocking had a force of men busy Thursday night re-oiling the main and adjacent streets of the city. When the rains started in earnest about 3 o'clock yesterday morning, the work was stopped. The work of grading Rardin avenue, in preparation for oiling, has also been held up.

Spare your health; get a good waterproof coat of Knoles.

REV. MR. PONTIUS RETURNS.

The Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Pontius have returned from a visit of several weeks in Angola, Ind. and Taylorville, Ill. Mr. Pontius will give the Sunday morning sermon tomorrow at the chautauqua and two weeks thence will resume his place in the pulpit of Central Christian church. In July Rev. Mr. Pontius attended the International Missionary convention of the Disciples of Christ at Los Angeles, Calif.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

Last evening Mrs. J. A. Obermeyer pleasantly celebrated her birthday anniversary with a supper to which a number of friends and neighbors were invited. The affair was a delightful social function, not very formal but full of good cheer, excellent things to eat, and a pleasant time generally and it is needless to add that the guests wished their hosts "many returns of the happy occasion."

EAT CLAU'S JUMBO PEANUTS.

TO ORGANIZE BAND. Fred Goodrick, a former member of Jeffries Band and leader of the band at the Jacksonville high school, has announced that he will organize a new band of twenty-five pieces. It is expected to hold rehearsals each week.

LOST FAMILY HORSE.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gill, of West College street, are mourning the loss of their old family horse which died Friday morning.

CARRYALL SERVICE.

Cherry's livery has established a carryall service from the street car terminal to the chautauqua grounds. Prompt service assured.
